BOYCOTT COMES TO AN END.

CANTON LIFTS THE BAN AGAINST HONGKONG.

TRADE REVIVAL HOPES.

Although there has been no official communication from Canton on the subject, intimations from other sources appears to make it clear that the anti-British boycott, definitely came to an end yesterday at noon.

The Strike Committee has notified that the boycott has terminated and that there will be no interference with shipping or passengers. Furthermore, the pickets' examination shed on the Canton Bund is in course of demolition.

From Macao and various points in the New Territories it is reported that all the pickets have been withdrawn, and there is a report that they may be used in connection with the prevention of smuggling under the new taxation scheme.

Arrangements are being made for the resumption of river shipping, and the general opinion in Canton is that trade will gradually be resumed and slowly recover.

Information received in commercial circles states that processions and demonstrations were held in Canton city yesterday, and that everything passed off quietly. There is, however, no information as to the nature of the speeches delivered in connection with the calling off of the boycott, although there is said to be every evidence in Canton that the movement has been terminated.

A proclamation has been issued by the Central Executive Committee of the Kuomintang announcing the withdrawal of the direct boycott of Hongkong, but referring to the suggested intensification of the anti-imperialist struggle.

DEMOLISHING EXAMINATION SHED.

One important piece of news is that the pickets' examination shed is in process of demolition.

The general opinion in Canton is that trade will be gradually resumed and slowly recover, but Chinese merchants appear to be waiting for someone to take the first step.

DEFINITE INTIMATION.

A telegram received here yesterday stated that the Strike Headquarters posted a notice yesterday morning to the effect that the boycott had ended at noon and that the examination shed had been abolished.

The notification also forbade pickets from examining cargoes, stated that there was no need to obtain passes and that anyone could go to Hongkong by boat.

Up to the time of the despatch of this telegram, no British steamer had gone alongside the wharves, and it was stated that they might not do so until it was clear that conditions were normal.

FURTHER ORDERS.

Canton, Oct. 10. The Strike Committee, which has been responsible for the enforcement of the boycott, to-day issued a notice abolishing restrictions on Canton-Hongkong traffic, permitting Chinese persons to travel between the two ports without the customary permission from the Strike Committee.

The notice further repeals the shipping regulations as affecting British vessels, and announces the closing of the "enemy goods" examination shed.

The Kuomintang issued similar orders.—Our Own Correspondent.

NOT "ANTI-BRITISH."

The Kuomintang Executive has addressed an open letter to the Canton and Hongkong strike leaders expressing admiration of the good work which the strikers have done during the past fifteen months and explaining the change of policy regarding the strike with a view to extending what is described as the "anti-imperialist movement." It is noteworthy that the term "anti-British" is not used.

It is added that the Kuomintang earnestly expects the strikers to support the new policy and do what they can to consolidate the revolutionary foundation for the welfare of the whole Chinese nation.

Several large matchboxes are being erected on the East Parade Ground and at Fongtsuen for the returned pickets.

WUCHANG PEACE.

Agreement Signed on Friday.

Shanghai, Oct. 11. The North China Daily News is reliably informed from Hankow that the Wuchang peace agreement was signed at four o'clock on Friday afternoon.

The Southern forces are reported to have taken possession of the last of the Wu-han cities at 2.30 p.m. on Saturday, completing their taking over yesterday.—Reuter.

EURASIAN SENTENCED

CAUGHT AFTER STREET CHASE.

A Eurasian from Shanghai, named George Clayton, was sentenced by Major C. Willson to one month's hard labour at the Central Magistracy this morning on pleading guilty to a charge of stealing cigarettes from Messrs. Donnelly and Whyte.

It was stated that Clayton in representing himself as being from one of the ships in the harbour, asked to be handed 1,000 Kensitas cigarettes. Whilst the shop assistant was attending to another order for whisky, Clayton picked up the parcel and ran out of the shop. A hue-and-cry being raised, he was pursued and caught by a Chinese constable.

A previous record against defendant for a similar offence was handed to the Magistrate, and Clayton was sentenced as stated above.

FRONTIER AFFRAY.

SWISS-ITALIAN CUSTOMS INCIDENT.

Geneva, Oct. 10. An armed frontier affray is reported from Chiasso. Early in the morning the Customs Guards intercepted smugglers attempting to enter Italy. The smugglers fired seriously wounding the guard. The pursuit was abandoned when the smugglers disappeared into Swiss territory leaving behind twelve sacks of tobacco and pharmaceutical products. A trail of blood marks indicates that some of the smugglers were wounded.—Reuter.

"CITY MURDER."

BODY FOUND IN STREET.

The central district of the City was the scene of a murder on Saturday night. The victim was a Chinese, whose dead body was found in Fat Hing Street some time after the crime.

Details are not yet available, the police being to-day actively engaged in examining a number of witnesses who were fellow-lodgers with the deceased. It is understood that no arrests have yet been effected in the case.

ROYAL VISITOR.

KNIGHTED BY THE KING.

Rugby, Oct. 10. His Majesty King George yesterday received Emir Feisal, son of Ibn Saud, King of the Hedjaz, in a private audience at Buckingham Palace and conferred on him a Knighthood of the Order of Saint Michael and Saint George.

Emir Feisal is concluding his visit to England early this week and is proceeding to Holland and afterwards to Paris. From thence he and his suite are returning to Arabia.—British Wireless.

The P. and O. steamer Mantua left Singapore yesterday and is due here on Thursday afternoon. She is bringing the English mail.

LEICESTER MINERS' DEFECTION.

DISTRICT UNION TAKES OWN ACTION.

CALL OFF STRIKE.

London, Oct. 10. The Leicestershire Miners' Council has decided to call off the Strike, and nearly 60 per cent. of the Leicestershire miners have already resumed.—Reuter.

SAFETY MEN'S POSITION.

Rugby, Oct. 10. It will not be known until next Thursday if the Miners' District Lodges approve of the latest suggestion of the Delegate Conference to withdraw the safety men from the pits.

The proposal is widely criticised as a "policy of despair," and, even if adopted, it is likely to be without effect. The great majority of the safety men are not affiliated to the Miners' Unions and there is no possibility whatever that they will cease their work of keeping the pits in order, on which they have been engaged throughout the dispute. Even if the safety workers who are in Miners' Unions responded to the call, there would be little difficulty in carrying on the work they have been doing.—British Wireless.

FUKIEN WAR ZONE.

THE LATEST REPORTS.

From Chao Chow a report comes to the effect that General Ho Ying-yum is rushing up troops to the frontier, and that the Chao-Moy circuit is declared a war zone under strict martial law.

It is reported also that the People's Army, under Yip Ting-kuo, has been ordered to take up the offensive, apparently with the object of testing the strength of the opposing forces, as several

FOOTBALL FORECASTS.

Date for Claims Extended.

There was a large entry for the first week of the Telegraph's Football Forecast Competition, entries for which closed at noon on Saturday.

The results of the matches appear on Page 9 to-day, but unfortunately the cable score of the Plymouth v. Queen's Park Rangers game was mutilated and we are unable to give it. However, the results of the other eleven games on the coupon are to hand, and competitors will see how they have fared in respect of these. We are hoping to receive the correct score of the Plymouth v. Q. P. R. game to-day or to-morrow.

In consequence of the missing score in one game, we have decided to extend the date for sending in claims to the prize until Thursday, and the result of the Competition will be announced on Friday. Those sending in claims for the prize must have had at least eight correct forecasts.

A new coupon for the current week's Competition will be found on Page 4 of this issue.

engagements of minor importance are reported to have taken place at different points with no definite results.

A later report states that the Nationalists are advancing into Fukien in three directions and threatening Chung Chow. This report, if confirmed, would indicate that no further reinforcements are needed in Kiangsi, and will mark the commencement of the third stage of the Northern campaign.

MANY ARRESTS.

ANTI-BRITISH MOVE CHECKED.

SHANGHAI INCIDENT.

The iron hand of General Sun Chuan-fang, Military overlord of the five south-eastern provinces, was displayed at Shanghai without its silken covering on Sunday afternoon (October 3rd) when, acting on his instructions, the Chinese police swooped down upon the headquarters of the National Chinese Students' Union at the West Gate and arrested 16 students and others who were meeting to plan a demonstration movement in connection with the Wansien affair.

The arrested 16 are being kept at the headquarters of the Woon-sung and Shanghai constabulary pending further instructions from General Sun. Police measures were taken as a consequence of General Sun receiving information that Shanghai students are planning a school strike starting October 5 as a protest against the Wansien bombardment.

OCT. 10 MEETING BANNED.

According to the Chinese newspapers, General Sun gave orders that any persons found propagating such sentiments would be arrested and kept in custody. He has also forbidden the holding of meetings on October 10, the anniversary of the foundation of the republic, on the score that martial law is in existence and meetings or demonstrations which tend to embarrass him in the successful prosecution of the war against the Southerners are banned.

Sunday's raid occurred at 3.30 p.m., when a posse of Chinese police visited the headquarters of the students' union at 3 Yen Ching Li, Pen Lai Road, West Gate, and arrested 16 people who had assembled there for the purpose of holding a meeting. The topic for discussion was the Wansien incident and the students had induced representatives of local bodies to attend.

"ENEMY GOODS."

The meeting decided to draw up a list of "enemy goods" and circulate it to Chambers of Commerce and shopkeepers' associations asking them to stop selling goods, and also to hold a memorial meeting for the Wansien affair.

Hardly were these decisions being reached when the police, under Chief Detective Wei Tsong-shu, entered the building and arrested all those present. Another man, who came later, was also arrested.

At police headquarters the arrested students were interrogated and detained but three newspaper reporters who were covering the meeting and were caught in the police net were released immediately.

ANGLO-GERMAN TRADING.

INFORMAL CONFERENCES HELD.

London, Oct. 10.

There was an atmosphere of confidence and cordiality at the informal conferences between British and German industrialists representing banking, shipping, wool, cotton, coal, iron, dyestuffs, and other interests, headed by Sir Robert Horne and Dr. Duisberg respectively held over the weekend at the country house, Romney, Hampshire, for the purpose of examining the prospects of mutual assistance and re-establishing the prosperous industry of Europe.

The utmost secrecy was preserved but at the conclusion of the deliberations in the afternoon it was understood that it had been decided to form a Standing Joint Committee composed of an equal number of Anglo-German representatives to pursue the investigation. Further meetings are contemplated.—Reuter.

ASSURING EUROPEAN PEACE.

GEN. HERTZOG'S STRIKING SPEECH.

TASK FOR STATESMEN.

London, Oct. 10.

In the presence of a great representative gathering, including Prince Arthur of Connaught, Earl Buxton, Viscount Gladstone, Earl Selborne, General Hertzog, Earl Haig, representatives of Marshal Joffre, the South African defence Forces, ex-service men and relatives of the fallen, Mrs. Louis Botha unveiled the imposing South African War Memorial at Delville Wood on the Somme.

Gen. Hertzog, in a striking speech, said that South Africans marched to the battlefield, with all the fervour and determination born of the conviction of the righteousness of their cause, and if militarism still stalked in the face of Europe the blame was not theirs. It now rested with the statesmen of Europe, especially the victorious statesmen, to justify the confidence of the world and realise the high and noble purpose of the war.—Reuter.

GALES AND HEAVY SEAS.

ROUGH CHANNEL CROSSING.

Rugby, Oct. 10.

During the week-end, gales and heavy seas were experienced in the Channel.

Prince Arthur of Connaught, Earl Haig, Mr. Amery, Colonial Secretary, General Hertzog, Premier of South Africa, Mrs. Louis Botha and many other distinguished people in a large party crossing to Boulogne to attend the unveiling ceremony at Delville Wood to-day of the South African Memorial, had an unpleasant experience. The Channel boat Biarritz by which they travelled had an extremely rough crossing and, on entering Boulogne harbour, during the gale with a strong current running, grounded in the fairway. The vessel was refloated after half an hour, no damage being done.—British Wireless.

DAUGHERTY TRIAL.

JURY UNABLE TO AGREE.

New York, Oct. 10.

At the conclusion of the trial of the ex-Attorney-General Daugherty and Colonel Miller, the jury were unable to agree after 24 hours' deliberation, but they were ordered to return to try again.—Reuter's American Service.

OBITUARY.

CABINET MINISTER THIRTY YEARS AGO.

Rugby, Oct. 10.

The death has occurred at the age of eighty years of Sir Dyke Adland, who over thirty years ago was a member of Gladstone's final Administration, and a member of that of Lord Roseberry, which succeeded it. He was, in his day, a prominent educationist.—British Wireless.

BOUND IN CHAINS.

SHANGHAI DOCTOR ARRESTED.

SPY CHARGES DISPROVED.

Dr. James Chu, physician of Shanghai College, was arrested in Nanking on suspicion of being a Kuomintang spy, recently, and held a prisoner for one week. He was set free on the intervention of Dr. Yen, Physics Professor at Shanghai College, and other personal friends, as well as the college authorities.

A KUOMINTANG CARD.

A few days before the event Dr. Chu received a letter from a life-long friend of his from Canton, a Presbyterian minister, who wrote that he was sending his daughter to Ginling College in Nanking. As the girl had never been away from home the father asked Dr. Chu to meet her at Shanghai and, if possible, conduct her to Nanking.

That Dr. Chu is a Cantonese and that the young lady with whom he was "travelling" had, with her membership card in a students' Kuomintang association, as well as some literature of that organization, from somewhere in Kwangtung, led to grave suspicions on the part of the Nanking railway police, who promptly arrested the couple. Chu and the young lady were separated and were not allowed to communicate with each other. She was soon fortunate enough to get into touch with the Ginling College authorities, who sent a representative to the police officials. Upon proper assurances being given the girl was released and allowed to enrol at Ginling College.

BOUND IN CHAINS.

Dr. Chu was held a prisoner for seven days, during part of which time his neck, hands, and feet were held in chains which were fastened to a post, so that he had difficulty both in lying down and standing up. When Dr. Chu wrote to his friend Dr. Yen, Physics Professor at Shanghai College, the latter treated it as a big joke that Chu, who was well-known to be anti-"Red" should be suspected as a "Red" agent. However, Dr. Yen went to Dr. V. K. Ting, who was about to visit Nanking and agreed to do what he could to secure Dr. Chu's release. Dr. Ting's visit to Nanking was cut short by other urgent affairs, and in the meantime Dr. Chu had been transferred from the military police to the regular military court for trial. Dr. Ting could do no more than write a note to the Governor about the matter.

STATEMENT DISBELIEVED.

Dr. Chu was now up for summary trial by the military court, and in the presence of the firing squad with loaded guns things looked very ugly. His statement that he was the Shanghai College physician was disbelieved because the only cards he had in his pocket bore the address of Peking Union Medical College, where Dr. Chu was located three months ago previous to his coming to Shanghai. A letter was then despatched to Shanghai, and the prisoner was transferred to the civil prison, where his chains were removed, but still without blankets or mattress he was far from comfortable. The next day a friend from the Nanking Theological Seminary found him and took him a pillow and blankets.

SUSPICION REMOVED.

Finally, Dr. Yen at Shanghai College received the news from Dr. V. K. Ting that he had not had opportunity to secure Dr. Chu's release, so Dr. Yen proceeded to Nanking to interview the Governor. The latter thought that Dr. Chu had already been released, but this proved not to be so; and then upon Dr. Yen's assurances and upon the receipt of a further letter from the Shanghai College authorities, Dr. Chu was set at liberty.

The students and faculty were all glad to welcome their doctor back on October 3rd. Moral: 1. Have up-to-date address cards with you when travelling. 2. Be sure to search the pockets and baggage of your young friends whom you are innocently conducting.

THE REPUBLIC.

CHINESE NATIONAL DAY IN HONGKONG.

Chinese National Day, being the anniversary of the inauguration of the Chinese Republic, was celebrated in Hongkong yesterday by the various organisations identified with the national movement.

On the eve of the festival, Chinese merchants, in association with the Chinese Y. M. C. A., gave a dinner on the roof of the Chinese National and Commercial Bank in Des Voeux Road, which was largely attended. The Ying Wah College saluted the flag yesterday morning, with all local Chinese companies of Boy Scouts present.

At the Sacred Heart College, with the co-operation of the Y. M. C. A. Day School, patriotic meetings and a concert were held. All services in Chinese churches were based on the subject of a re-organised and peaceful China. In the evening, the Chinese Y. M. C. A., held a prayer meeting for the nation, the Rev. Yung Tang-shang conducting Divine Service, with Dr. Ohau Wal-cheng of the Chinese Medical Association as the principal speaker.

At the Chinese Club, a reception was held, when the members were at home to their friends between 3.30 and 5.30 p.m. This was the first official celebration the Club had held in connection with the National Day and there were some 200 present, with Mr. T. S. Chau in the chair.

Prior to the opening, the Chairman called the company to order and toasted the "Republic of China," after which obeisance to the flag was made and the company sat down to tea, amateur musicians providing melodious "extras."

An Auspicious Day.

Mr. S. N. Chau, in addressing the assemblage, drew attention to the auspiciousness of the day, when he hoped all trouble between Hongkong and Canton would be settled. He prayed that from this day onward, there would be a continuance of the relations between Britain and China, a hope, which he felt sure, would be echoed by all present. He further announced that it was his great pleasure to be the conveyer of glad tidings from Canton which was contained in a telegram that had been received while the guests were gathered under the roof of the Chinese Club, to the effect that the strike had been declared "off."

The celebrations, although officially timed to terminate at 5.30 p.m., were continued until much later, after which the guests made their way to yet other ceremony in connection with the great day, which was not only one of national festival, but an international celebration.

In the evening there was a cheery demonstration at the hall of the Chin Woo Athletic Association in Caine Road, where, after the duties of the table had been performed, a concert was given. This embraced feats of Chinese athletics, and dancing and a play which was topical burlesque on present day conditions in Hongkong, dealing particularly with the high rentals and the work of the Association with a satisfying ethical conclusion.

At the Lee Gardens there was a brilliant firework display with a "unique human bonfire" as part of the programme. Streets and business houses also joined in the celebration with gay festoonings of flags, streamers and cracker bursts.

BRITAIN & GERMANY.

FAREWELL TO BRITISH AMBASSADOR.

Rugby, Oct. 9. Lord D'Abernon, the retiring British Ambassador in Berlin, who is returning to England to-morrow, presented his letters of recall to President Von Hindenburg yesterday. A large crowd had gathered outside the palace in the Wilhelmstrasse, and Berlin correspondents state the Ambassador's departure has provoked a remarkable display of regret on the part of all classes of Germans.

Addressing the President, the Ambassador reviewed the events during the six years of his mission. He mentioned the stabilisation of Germany's currency after crises unparalleled in the history of Germany, her passage through financial equilibrium and the recognition of her industry and commerce upon a basis auguring well for her future material prosperity.

He added, "In the sphere of politics the transformation has been no less remarkable, and I leave Germany at peace with her neighbours, her security assured by the Treaty of Locarno and her place among the nations at Geneva established by universal consent."

The President, replying, said, the policy of permanent European peace had made an important step forward and in that evolution Lord D'Abernon had taken a paramount share, which would not be forgotten.

The Ambassador was presented by the Government of the Reich with a magnificent antique silver centrepiece.

Referring to the private and unofficial meeting taking place this week-end at Colonel Ashley's country house between prominent business men from Germany and Great Britain, the Times says that the meeting arose out of a desire by business men in both countries to discover how far it was possible for industry in the leading countries of Europe to cooperate in the rehabilitation of prosperous employment. Whether definite results can be achieved or not, it is believed that the mutual exchange of views can do nothing but good, both in the advancement of industrial interests in Europe and the production of a healthy spirit. The fact that only Great Britain and Germany are represented at these informal conversations does not in any way indicate that other countries of Europe are being forgotten, and it is stated with assurance that this conference, if it is successful, will be only the beginning of further meetings with representatives of other great industrial countries of the continent.—British Wireless.

THE KUOMINTANG.

PLEA FOR BRITISH FRIENDSHIP.

London, Oct. 10. A plea for better relations between the Chinese Kuomintang and the British Government, was made by Comdr. Kenworthy, speaking at a dinner of the Kuomintang Society in London. He said the talk about the Kuomintang being under the thumb of Russia was all nonsense. It represented organised liberal and progressive opinion, working for the restoration of the Chinese constitution and parliament, and was bound to triumph finally, because democracy always triumphs over dictatorship.—Reuter.

THE TYPHOON.

PASSES AWAY FROM HONGKONG.

The No. 2 signal, which was hoisted at 6 p.m. on Friday, continued in position throughout the whole of Saturday and the greater part of Sunday, but there was no appreciable change in local weather conditions, except occasional showers.

Official History.

The following statement, giving the history of the typhoon since the first report was made, was issued by the Hongkong Observatory yesterday. This shows that the Colony has again been saved from the devastations of a heavy blow by the narrowest of margins.

"The typhoon formed on the morning of October 5, about 700 miles east of Manila. Travelling W.N.W. it passed a little to the north of Aparri at about midnight on October 7-8. On the evening of the 8th its track altered to west, and the centre passed a few miles south of Pratas at 6 a.m. on October 9, causing winds of full typhoon force at that station.

"Before reaching Pratas its rate of progression decreased from 12 to 8 m.p.h., and it appeared to be almost stationary between 5 p.m. on the 9th and 3 a.m. on the 10th. At 8 a.m. it appeared to be filling up or moving W. by S. At Gap Rock a strong northerly gale was experienced until 3 a.m. on the 10th, when the wind began to decrease and veer slowly. By 10 a.m. it was N.E. force 7.

"In view of its severity and of the existence of a strong anticyclone over China it is surprising that the typhoon caused so little wind at Hongkong. It was expected that the combined monsoon and typhoon winds would cause winds above rather than below the average for typhoons at such a distance (150 miles) from the Colony.

"The typhoon probably lost its energy on account of the relatively cold dry current feeding it from northward."

FACT V. FANCY.

"I don't believe in patent medicines," said the sceptic. "Just what do you mean by 'patent medicines'?" asked his friend.

"Why—er—all secret medicinal preparations," answered the sceptic, "all remedies of which the formula is never divulged. It is senseless to take medicine if you don't know what it contains."

"Of course," suggested his friend, "you always read a physician's prescription and quite understand what is being given you."

"Well, no," admitted the sceptic. "But then, you see, it is a physician who is prescribing, and who knows what he is about."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are themselves the prescription of a learned and experienced physician who, as the sceptic suggests, knew what he was about. Their superior efficacy as a Blood and Nerve Tonic rests upon the outstanding merit of the prescription from which they are made and is the reason for their world-wide popularity as a specific in cases of anaemia, nervous debility, digestive weakness, and those troubles from which only women suffer.

Your chemist sells them, or post free, $1.50 per bottle, $3 for 6 bottles, from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 60, Kiangse Road, Shanghai.

"A BARBAROUS NATION."

IF MR. SHAW HAD BEEN A GERMAN.

Mr. Bernard Shaw's recent letter to the German Minister for Foreign Affairs thanking him for his letter of congratulation on his seventieth birthday, and contrasting that courtesy with the indifference of the British Government ("we are a barbarous nation, in matters of culture") has drawn a reply from a German—Carl Schmitz, Oelkersallee, Altona—who sends to The Observer an "open letter" to Mr. Shaw himself.

After recalling the circumstances of the writing and publication of Mr. Shaw's letter, Herr Schmitz goes on:—

"I regard it as certain that if you had been a German writer our political authorities would have thought twice before signifying their wish that you may still enjoy

"TELEGRAPH" FOOTBALL COMPETITION.

PRIZE OF $25 WEEKLY FOR EASY FORECASTS.

The "Hongkong Telegraph" offers a prize of $25 to the reader who sends in the greatest number of correct forecasts (provided that number is eight or more) of the English and Scottish Football League matches (to be played on Saturday next, October 16th) set out in the coupon below. No goal scores are required; only forecasts showing wins or draws.

Rules of Competition.

1. All forecasts must be contained on coupons cut from the "Hongkong Telegraph," the name of address of the entrant to be plainly printed in block letters in ink.

2. All envelopes must be addressed to the "Hongkong Telegraph," 1/8, Wyndham Street, and marked "Football Competition" on the front, with sender's name (without address) on the back.

3. Any number of attempts may be sent in, but a separate coupon must be used for each attempt.

4. The prize of $25 will be awarded to the competitor who sends in the greatest number of correct forecasts on one coupon of the twelve matches, excepting that no prize will be awarded for less than eight correct results. In the event of more than one competitor forwarding an equal winning number of forecasts, the $25 will be divided equally between such competitors. No competitor, however, will be entitled to more than one share of the prize.

5. In the event of no competitor sending in eight or more correct forecasts, the prize of $25 will be carried forward to the following week, thus doubling the amount to be competed for.

6. All forecast coupons must reach the "Telegraph" office not later than 12 o'clock (noon) on Saturdays. Coupons received after that time will be discarded.

7. The results of each week's Competition will be announced in the "Telegraph" of the Fridays following the dates on which the matches are played.

8. Competitors who have forwarded eight or more correct forecasts must send in claims for the prize. Envelopes containing such claims must be marked "Football Claim" and must reach this office not later than the Wednesday following the dates on which the matches are played, failing which they will not be considered. No prize will be awarded for which a claim has not been made.

9. The "Telegraph" will accept no responsibility for the loss or non-delivery of coupons. No correspondence or interviews will be entered upon.

10. No match contained in the coupon which, from any cause, is not played to a finish will be counted.

11. No member of the "Telegraph" staff will be permitted to compete in this competition.

12. The Editor's decision must be accepted as final on all points. In dispute in connection with the Competition or interviews will be entered upon.

MARK YOUR ENVELOPES "FOOTBALL" ON THE FRONT, AND WRITE YOUR NAME (WITHOUT ADDRESS) ON THE BACK OF THE ENVELOPE.

good health and continue to write for many years yet, as you do in England. In questions of culture we are at least quite as barbaric as you declared England to be. Unhappily I feel bound to correct you here. Irony makes you assert that among the governing classes in England art is loved only in secret. Do not imagine that it is otherwise with us; and do not imagine that our governing classes are capable of absorbing more art than those in other countries, merely because they congratulate a foreign dramatist.

"I question very much, therefore, whether the governing classes in England understand less of art than we do, or that they are barbarians. This particular paradox of yours falls flat. I find, on the other hand, that English diplomacy knows how to be silent, while ours is occasionally too glib. This has made England great and Germany small. We have not even a sense of proportion: we cannot discriminate. But I would not advise you to write a play on the subject in the Shavian manner. Were you to do so, you would learn that one must not allow oneself to be deceived by occasional attentions which are of a purely private nature, cost nothing and bind us to nothing.

"By such extra turns our governing classes certainly seem to show that they can appreciate art as approved by you. Do not forget, however, that there are also exceptions, and first and foremost, that there is prevalent in Germany a real mania for everything foreign, even if, it is the greatest humbug, so that our average capacity for judging that which appertains to that Super-Republic of art and thought extolled by you is in fact most deficient. Most do not care to hear much about this, because this Utopia was expiated upon by our own classical writers—the same masters to whom, according to your letter, you owe so much.

"In this sense, then, recognition by us signifies no distinction for you. This, no doubt, will somewhat surprise you. I am certain, moreover, that no one grudges England the honour of possessing you, and also that the reason why you have so many admirers in Germany is that here truth is weighed in exactly the same way as elsewhere; that is to say, that those truths re-

WUCHANG FALLS.

LONG SIEGE ENDED AT LAST.

Peking, Oct. 9. The conditions in Wuchang have been greatly exaggerated, according to a foreign telegram from Hankow, which states that American visitors there on October 7 found considerable loss of life among the women and children, who were trampled to death at the gates, but there were practically no deaths from starvation.

All the Americans are safe and well.

As it is understood that the Northerners at last are approaching a compromise settlement with the attackers, the exodus from Wuchang has virtually ceased.—Reuter.

Hankow, Oct. 9. It is reported that Tang Shangkai is dissatisfied with his position in the Southern Army and has made overtures to Sun Chuan-fang.

It is also reported that Chang Kai-shek has gone to Canton owing to the situation there.

Wuchang has capitulated, and it is probable that this is not unconnected with Tang's alleged defection.—Naval Wireless.

Washington, Oct. 9. The Secretary of State, Mr. Kellogg, has instructed the American Minister at Peking to do his utmost to aid the non-combatants at Wuchang.—Reuter's American Service.

Previous Reports Exaggerated. (Our Own Correspondent.)

Shanghai, Oct. 10. Earlier Hankow reports of Wuchang conditions were undoubtedly exaggerated.

An eyewitness, telegraphing, says he found the inhabitants hungry, but not starving. The shops were barricaded, and there were some corpses in the streets.

It is announced that the besieged Northerners have accepted the Southerners' terms, and will evacuate the city immediately, whereupon the Southerners will enter Wuchang and assume responsibility for maintaining peace and order.

Those troops evacuating are to be incorporated in Liu Tso-lung's army, being despatched to Ching-chang down river.

A Misunderstanding Holds Up the Evacuation.

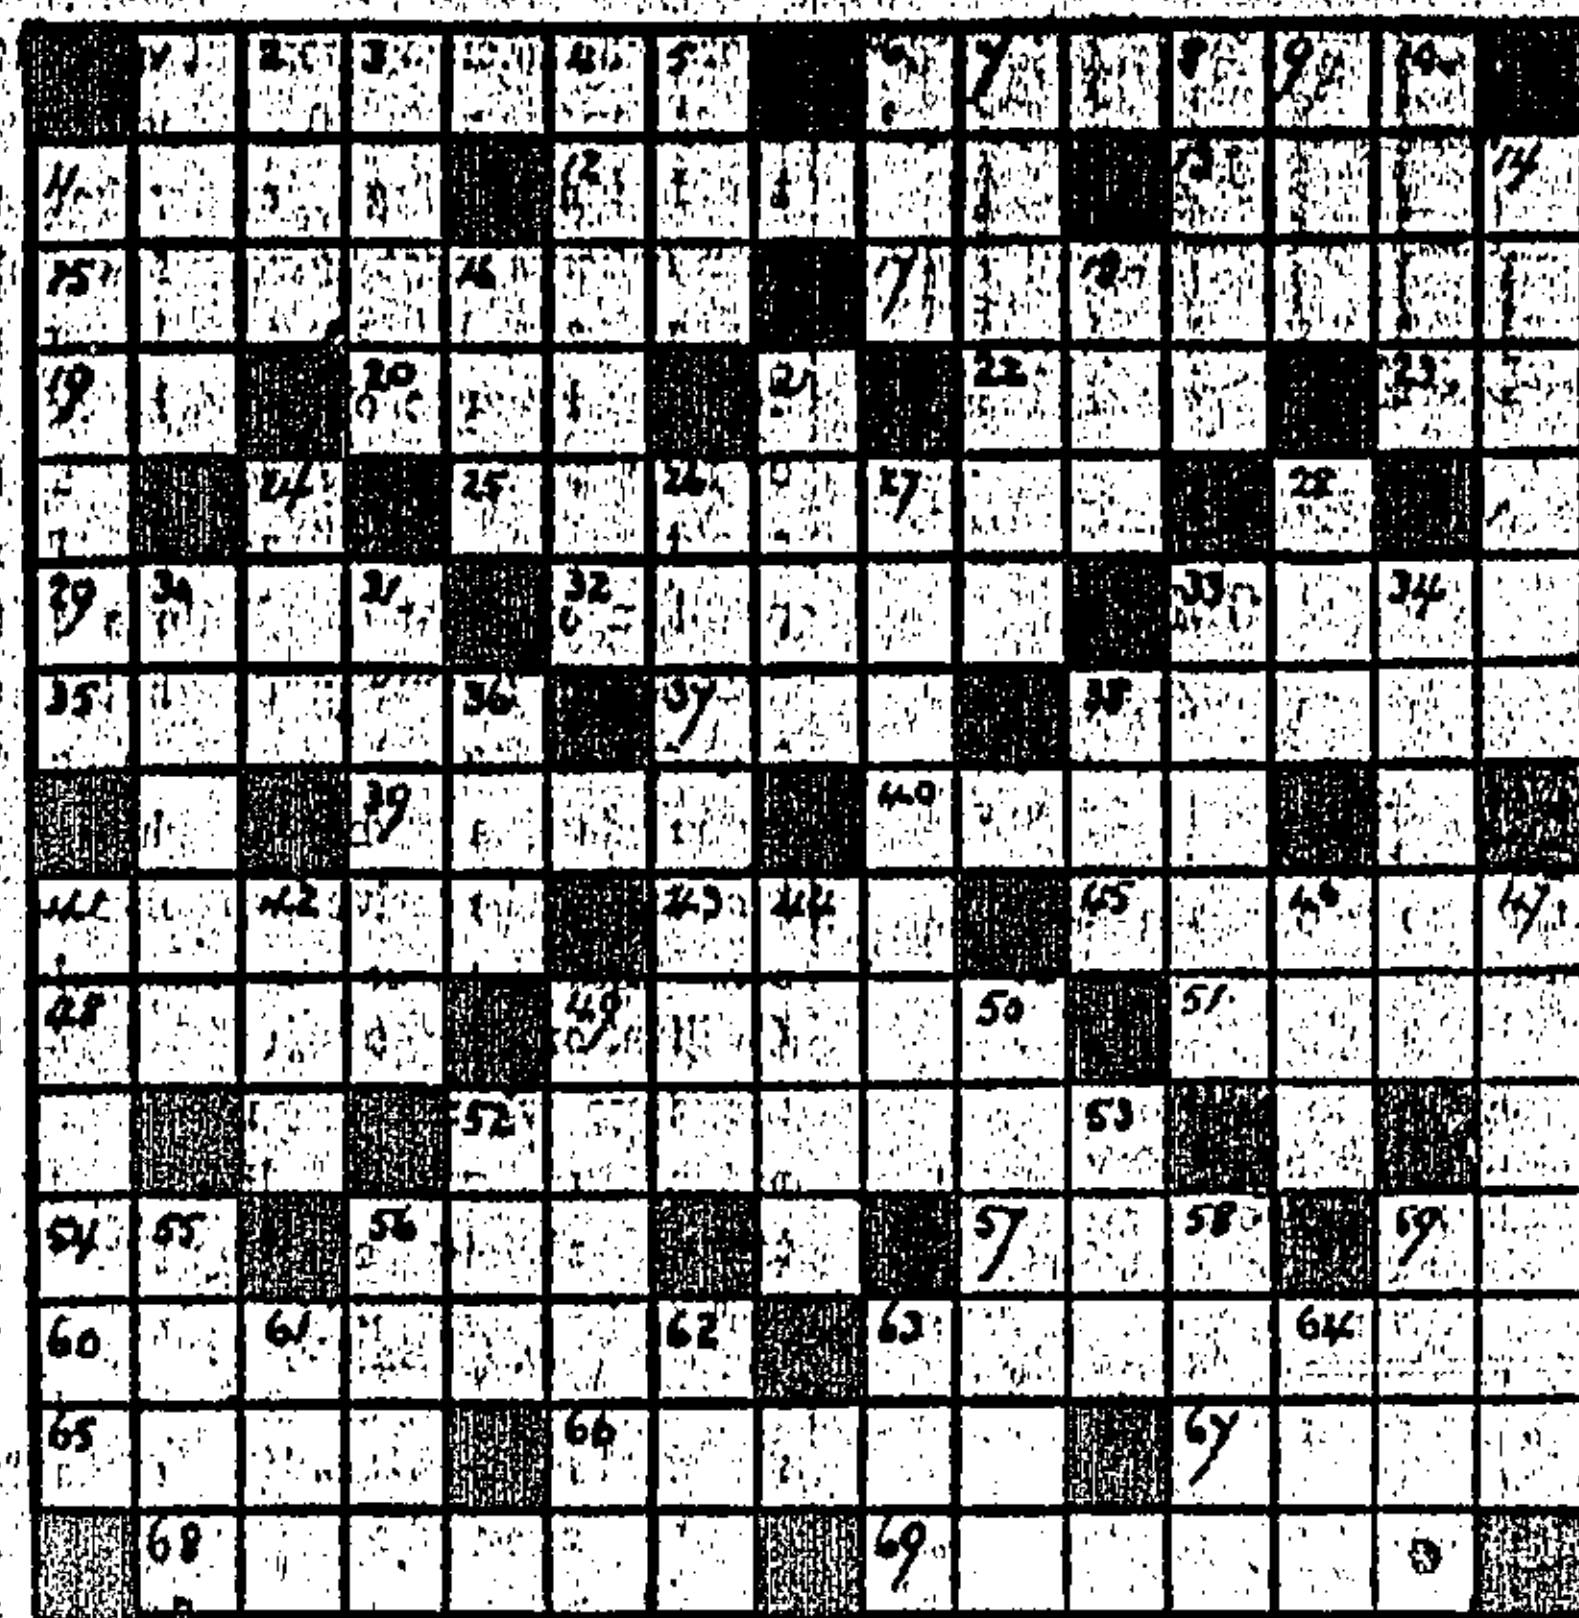

Later. A message from Hankow states that while the evacuation of Wuchang was proceeding, a misunderstanding regarding the terms precipitated an artillery battle between Wuchang and Hanyang Arsenal, continuing for several hours.

The Southerners' terms defined the disposition of the rifles, but did not mention the artillery, therefore when the Northerners were evacuating they began loading their artillery on lighters, preparing to proceed down river. The Southern observers reported to Hanyang Arsenal, the artillery there went into action, and Wuchang replied.

When negotiations followed, the Southerners insisted that the artillery be not moved, and the Northerners then agreed to this new condition, but refused to march to Ching-shan through the city's north gate, because that road is still closed by Southern troops, the Northerners fearing an ambush.

Negotiators are now attempting to adjust the situation and avert any possible general outbreak.

At Kiukiang.

Peking, Oct. 9. Contradictory reports respecting the situation in Kiukiang continue to reach Peking from there and from Nanking, but according to a despatch from independent sources in Hankow, General Sun Chuan-fang has not completely evacuated the place, though he has removed a considerable number of troops. The message adds that the Cantonese are now very near Kiukiang, and decisive developments may be expected.—Reuter.

Boycott Developing.

Hankow, Oct. 9. A big anti-foreign demonstration is planned for 10th October. The concession is well guarded and all precautions have been taken. The boycott at Chungking is serious and difficulties are arising as to food and supplies for the gunboats and the British community.

Some women and children are evacuating Chengtu, where a serious boycott is expected, and it is feared that a general evacuation will be necessary.—Naval Wireless.

COMMITTEE APPOINTED.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 11, 1926.

TRADE UNIONISM.

Following the fiasco of the general strike in Great Britain in May last it was only to be expected that the Conservative party would, at its first conference, devote much time and thought to framing the party's policy in relation to Trade Union matters. According to a Reuter telegram received on Friday the subject was one of the first to be discussed at the Scarborough meeting and a strong resolution on the matter was carried unanimously. The Government was urged to take several steps, all of them so important that they are worthy of studious consideration by all who follow the trend of political events. The Government was, first of all, asked to make illegal the calling of a strike by any Union without a secret ballot of its members. It will be remembered that at the time of the general strike the members of many Unions were called out without any previous reference to them of the points at issue and that, in many cases, there was not even a point at issue between the men and their employers. But it has since been held that such procedure was illegal—in fact it was Sir John Simon's pronouncement on that matter which was primarily responsible for the early return of the men. Anxious though one is to prevent a repetition of the May folly, one doubts whether the taking of a secret ballot would, in every case, work out for the best, for it may happen that the time taken to complete that form of ballot would operate unfairly against the men to whom the time factor might be an extremely important one. There ought to be some machinery whereby any Trade Union action is based on the wishes of the majority, but when the Conservative party asks for the calling of a strike to be made illegal unless certain preliminaries are complied with, who are to be arrested? Is it the Union leaders or the workers who have illegally gone on strike? It must never be overlooked, however disagreeable such a fact may be to the cautious politicians, that workers have a right to strike and that the strike weapon will be used whenever there is no prospect of getting a reasonable compromise otherwise.

There will be very general agreement with the recommendation that all individual workers should be made secure against intimidation and victimisation on account of his political belief, but there has been agreement on that point for years. The cases of intimidation arising from what a man believes must be very few and far between, but that such cases do arise because of what he does or fails to do are undoubted and ought to be discouraged. The problem of what the Unions call "blackleg" labour and what the employers would call "loyal" labour is one which, when attempted to be solved, resolves itself into a personal viewpoint. Civilisation has taken us beyond the stage where every man can do as he likes—we are all restricted to what society permits us to do, and it is an arguable point whether workers banded together have a right to restrict any one of their number when the majority think his action inimical to their interests as a whole. It would be a ticklish point on which to legislate. On the question of picketing, the Trade Unions would have much to say in opposition to the Conservative suggestion that it should be made illegal because peaceful picketing (as against the intimidatory picketing we have witnessed here in connection with the Hongkong "strike") has been allowed ever since Trade Unions have conducted industrial stoppages. The compulsory national auditing of Trade Union accounts would be all right, provided all political party funds came under the same rule. In these matters of Trade Union conduct we would much rather trust to the good sense of the majority of British workers than pass restrictive legislation which, in operation, would only create friction and annoyance.

Filipino Aims.

The demand by the Filipinos for immediate and absolute independence would appear to be growing in force, and it will be interesting to watch developments after Colonel Carmi Thompson has sent in his report based on an actual study on the spot of conditions in the islands. The latest memorial presented by the Filipinos, of which we gave the main outlines on Saturday, is significant as showing that all parties are united in the demand, and, in view of the tendency for small nations to be conceded the rights of self-determination, the Filipino plea is worthy of serious consideration. There are, of course, many factors to be taken into account in so big an issue, noteworthy amongst which may be mentioned the recurring troubles with various rival tribes, and we can well appreciate the American standpoint that too early withdrawal might prove disastrous to the people of the Philippines. The American policy to grant independence when the inhabitants of the islands are fitted for it is somewhat vague in character, for it leaves in dispute the point as to who is to judge when that stage is reached. Apparently, there is now a probability that the islands will soon be declared American territory for a definite period of time. That would be a step in the direction of acceding to the Filipino demands and it may well be that some such course will have to be adopted in the near future in order to allay Filipino anxiety. At any rate, America must ere long come out with a more definite policy on the issue, one way or the other, than has hitherto been declared, for it is to the interests of no-one that the present state of suspense should continue.

The B. I. Steamer Takada with mails left Singapore for Hongkong on Saturday and is due here on Friday.

A regulation just published in the Shanghai Municipal Gazette states that the legal closing hour of public establishments such as Bars, Cafes, Hotels, Dancing Halls, etc., will be fixed at 2 a.m. These places will be permitted to keep open all night on special occasions on payment of certain fees.

George Cayzer, aged 24, was reaping corn with a motor tractor at Widdow (Herts) and carrying a gun in readiness for any game, when the gun discharged and he was shot dead.

Capt. J. G. Johnstone, Royal Marines, who arrived in Shanghai recently, has taken over the duties of British Naval Staff Officer at H.M. Consulate-General, vice Capt. R. C. A. Glanville, Royal Marines, who is leaving for Home.

Mr. R. H. Clive, C.M.G., British Consul-General for Morocco, who was formerly in the Consular service in North China, left Tangier on Sept. 14 for London. He will proceed in October to Persia as Minister.

A painter, named Leung Wei, 17 years old, while working yesterday afternoon in Gresson Street, fell from scaffolding on the second floor to the street. He was taken to hospital suffering from shock, but died a few hours after admission.

Manila advices show that the typhoon which missed Hongkong over the week-end was this morning proceeding on a westerly course in the direction of Hainan. There is another typhoon situated to the east of the Philippine Islands, direction unknown.

At the Church of St. Martin-in-the-Fields, Trafalgar square, on Sept. 14 the marriage was solemnised between the Rev. Charles Alfred Kemble Irwin, Rector of Swyncombe, Oxon, and Miss Lydia Theresa Cottier, eldest daughter of Sir Charles and Lady Cottier. The bridegroom is the elder surviving son of the late Rev. J. J. Irwin, D.D., sometime Colonial Chaplain, Hongkong.

The Peking and Tientsin Times understands on reliable authority that Sir James Jamieson, K.C.M.G., for many years British Consul-General at Canton, has been appointed to succeed Mr. W. P. Ker, C.M.G., in Tientsin and that he will arrive in Tientsin to assume his duties about December 7th. Mr. A. H. George has already arrived in Tientsin to take the place of Mr. Hutchinson as Vice-Consul.

Mr. Miles Lampson, of the Foreign Office, who is expected to succeed Sir Ronald Macleay as British Minister at Peking, is described as a popular figure of whom diplomats speak as second to none for charm and independence. He has a serene outlook which qualifies him for a post of importance. He represented England during Kulechka's unhappy regime in Siberia, and by his Foreign Office friends is called the "genial giant"—for he stands 6 ft. 4 in.

The Very Idea!

It is not only on trains, in England that there is unfair differentiation against women smokers. The Customs authorities also discriminate without reason. "Purely as an act of courtesy," say the regulations for cross-Channel travellers, "passengers are permitted to import free of duty tobacco for personal use not exceeding per person 10 cigars or 20 cigarettes. Ladies and children cannot claim the allowance."

"How about that $4,000,000 case?"

"Oh, that's been settled to the satisfaction of the lawyers on both sides."

"Did anybody else get anything?"

How many people have ever heard of—much less seen played—the game of lawn billiards? Yet this quaint pastime, which came to us from Flanders some two hundred years ago, once enjoyed considerable vogue in England. To-day, there remains but one solitary club. This is to be found at Hampstead, where, in the garden of an inn near the Heath, some eighty odd devotees still play off matches during the summer evenings. Played with a "cue" which resembles a broom-handle in the end of which is an iron ring, on a "lawn" of sand spread on a foundation of carefully laid bricks, the object of the game is to hurl a heavy wooden bowl through a pivoted ring which stands upright in the middle of the "lawn." As in bowls, the skilful player can knock his opponent's "wood" out of position, and by making cunning use of this "cannon" go on to pass safely through the ring.

He loved to pump his tyre up. But each time he'd begin it. It didn't do a bit of good. A monstrous hole was in it.

Rector: Isn't it terrible the way these girls loll about the beaches with hardly anything on? Curate: Yes, I'd like to see them in church.

WAILING CHORUS.

The man next door is a violinist. The bloke across the road is a trombonist.

The chap at the back is a saxophonist.

The fellow in the flat across the way is a cornetist.

The brute a few doors up is a pianist.

The lady at the corner is a vocalist.

Can you wonder that I'm a pessimist?—Emgee.

Dutch push carts in New York sell such delicious tidbits as pickled herring and onions, dill pickles and dried sun fish. Perhaps the lack of ice cream and candy push carts explain the behaviour of visitors of some country's progeny. They areimps. They fish in the canals and hit the passerby on the heads with their fish poles, or try to push them into the canals.

An offence committed outside the gates of Scotland Yard has escaped the notice of the police.

Two boys, aged about 10, were wheeling a perambulator containing their baby sister along Bridge Street, Westminster. One of them espied a pile of woodpaving blocks in the entrance to Cannon-row (which leads to Scotland Yard). He hastily conferred with his brother. The pram was carefully manoeuvred into position along side the blocks by one in the end of which is an iron ring, nonchalantly behind. He stopped, gave a hasty furtive glance at the law, serenely directing part of the Parliament-square merry-go-round, and then, diving down, picked up one of the blocks. The baby sister was rudely disturbed from her rest, and the swag stowed away behind her pillow.

A huge monster, generally thought to be the fossilized skeleton of a mastodon, was recently discovered near Caserta and visitors from all over Italy as well as many tourists, are crowding every day to see the bones of the giant beast.

The Casterta mastodon has two tusks nearly eight feet long, one of which is perfectly preserved, though the other is broken, probably owing to the work of the excavators.

The skeleton lies at a depth of some 26 feet below the ground, and is so far only partly excavated; the work having been temporarily suspended in order to allow the government experts to decide on the best method of raising it.

The proprietor of the land where the mastodon was brought to light is stated to have become quite unbalanced by his find, and lives in dread that the precious brute will be carried off. He sleeps beside it at night in the field where it lies, with a gun by his side, and during the day pockets the small fees he asks to visit the mastodon.

BOYCOTT COMES TO AN END.

gling will be entrusted to the strike pickets, who have been recalled to headquarters for the purpose of being trained for the work.

In the meantime, although the boycott has been declared off, trade conditions have somewhat changed, owing to diversion of shipping to other ports, the Hongkong, and it is thought possible that this will for some little time have an effect on Hongkong commerce, but there is no doubt that, once normality is fully restored, the pre-eminence of this Colony as a business centre will be re-established.

MACAO FREE.

News from Macao is to the effect that the pickets have been withdrawn from the barrier on land and also on the river below Chishan and from Lappa.

Apparently no pickets remain anywhere in this district, and the ban on Macao can now be considered as having been lifted.

BOATS FOR CANTON.

To-morrow will see a resumption of the river steamer service to Canton as the result of the lifting of the boycott. So far as we have been able to ascertain, three boats will make the trip. These are the Lungshan, Sai On and the Kwong Sai. The former two will leave for Canton at eight o'clock to-morrow morning, and the latter at 9 p.m. to-morrow evening.

It is also possible that the Tung On, which was put on to the Macao run when the river service with Canton ceased, and is now in dock, will return to the Canton run when she is recommissioned.

Indo-China and China Navigation steamers are also likely to go up to Canton shortly.

"MADAME BUTTERFLY"

ANOTHER GRAND OPERA SUCCESS.

The successful season of the Italian Grand Opera Company was continued at the Theatre Royal on Saturday night, when a large audience assembled to witness the ever-popular "Madame Butterfly." The charming but sad story was brilliantly interpreted by the artists.

Mlle. L. Ambrosio was a particularly happy selection to fill the role of Cho-Cho-San, Madame Butterfly, and her rich vibrant voice had such a moving effect on the audience that she was continuously applauded and on one occasion she had repeated an air. The part of Lieut. Pinkerton was ably taken by Sig. A. Couffe, whilst Sig. G. Bigardi, as the American Consul, used his powerful voice to good effect. All the other parts were acted with remarkably fine expression, and the work of the chorus was well above the average. Tonight the well-known "Faust" will be produced.

LEGACIES TO WAITRESSES.

THEIR MOST CONSIDERATE CUSTOMER.

Two waitresses and the manageress of the restaurant where Mr. Frank John Smythson, stationer, of Brunswick-square, Bloomsbury, took luncheon for sixteen years benefit under his will.

Mr. Smythson, who left £49,282, bequeathed £100 to Miss Alsept, late manageress of Slater's restaurant, Holborn, and £50 each to Lily Violet Copley and Clara Tasker Graves, formerly waitresses there.

"I first knew Mr. Smythson when I was working at Slater's restaurant in Oxford-street, in 1898," said Miss Alsept to a Daily Express representative. "He was in business in Bond-street at the time, and he had luncheon at the restaurant every day. He always lunched off a grilled leg of chicken, which had to be specially prepared. For the five years preceding the war Miss Copley and Miss Graves waited on him in turn. He was our oldest customer."

"Miss Copley and Miss Graves left the firm when they married during the war. Two years ago, when he was about to undergo an operation, Mr. Smythson got in touch with me, and asked me if I could find out where they lived. He said he wanted to leave them something in return for the kindness which they had shown him."

"I shall always remember him as the most considerate customer I have ever known."

INTERPORT GOLF.

DESCRIPTION OF SINGLES MATCHES.

The following is from the N. C.

Daily News of Friday—

The second day of the Interport match between the Shanghai Golf Club and the Royal Hongkong Golf Club resulted in a tie for the challenge cup. Shanghai won three of the singles and Hongkong won two; the remaining one was all square. In the circumstances, as Hongkong had secured one point in the foursomes on Wednesday, the contest resulted in a tie. After the match the two teams met and resolved that it should be re-played on Monday. Originally it was intended that there should be a golfing gymkhana on that day at Szekingjao, but this has now been cancelled. And there will be 18 holes foursomes play in the morning at Kiangwan and 18 holes singles in the afternoon, and this will decide the destination of the cup.

As on the first day of the contest, play was of a very high order in the majority of cases. Shanghai's first man was M. W. Budd, and he succeeded in defeating A. H. Ferguson of Hongkong. A. R. Blinko fell a victim to the every fine work of L. H. Shewan, who was in his very best form. A. B. Stewart, the former Hongkong champion who was No. 3 in the Shanghai team, had a great tussle with L. W. Andrews and finished all square, Stewart missing a three-foot putt at the last hole which would have given him the match and incidentally Shanghai the victory. H. R. Malcolm played a fine game for Shanghai, and won by 3 and 2 against N. L. Smith while K. M. Cumming was defeated by E. T. E. Pendered fairly easily. A. V. Pettitt justified his place in the team by beating Captain E. W. Morris by 3 and 6.

SOME OF THE PLAY.

With six matches progressing simultaneously it is impossible to give anything like a detailed account of what occurred at the different holes. Budd showed an ascendancy over Ferguson in the morning, largely because the latter was not pushing his short approaches and approach putts up to the hole. In the afternoon things were different. Ferguson came on to his form and went out in 37, although having two shots out of bounds. Budd had one out of bounds at the first, another at the second, two at the third and one at the fifth. Otherwise his play was up to par. Ferguson brought the leeway down to one hole at the 12th, but thereafter Budd declined to make any mistake and won the match on the 16th green by 3 and 2.

Both Shewan and Blinko are long drivers, but yesterday Shewan seemed to find the cross wind less worrying than did his opponent. Blinko was seldom as accurate in his driving as usual, and as a result had to extricate himself from a fair amount of trouble. Generally he did so with success, but when one is playing against a man such as Shewan on his present form, that is not enough. Not only was Shewan driving well—from the 16th tee in the morning he hit so long a ball that he was tucked up under the Himalayas—but he was making beautiful approaches and his putting was deadly. Blinko gave away a lot on the greens, and both morning and afternoon sacrificed holes by failing to get down ridiculously short putts. The match ultimately came to dormie four, and then Blinko put up a fine fight, but there was trouble awaiting him at the 17th hole, and he lost by three and one. In the afternoon, going out, Shewan did a 36—three under Bogey—while Blinko had a 38. In the morning Blinko held out the 18th—454 yards—in three with a drive, iron and putt.

Malcolm missed a good deal during his two rounds through in different putting; otherwise there was much good play in this match. Cumming had to face an opponent, Pendered, who, like Shewan, did a 36 out in the afternoon. At the same time Cumming was not at his best, and both his drives and approaches were erratic. Pettitt was steady throughout. He was up against a fine driver in Captain Morris, who occasionally, however, would put in a thoroughly bad tee shot to the strong detriment of his chance of winning the hole.

A THRILLING FINISH.

By the time that the match between A. B. Stewart and L. R. Andrews was nearing an end, it was seen that this would very probably prove to be the deciding event of the Interport contest. Both were

HAVE WE LIVED BEFORE?

"I KILLED YOU IN A CHARIOT RACE."

Have we lived before?

Sir Oliver Lodge's forecast at the British Association meeting at Oxford that before the association meets again in that city, the secret of life will have been solved, has awakened a flood of speculation and inquiry.

Among the correspondence on the subject of life after death which has been received by the Daily Express has risen the apposite question: Have we lived and died before this present existence?

Evidence is often quoted in support of this from the fact that a person on visiting a locality entirely new to him will sometimes exclaim: "I recognise that spot"—or that house—or that person.

Here is a typical experience bearing on this point, selected from the many letters received:—

To the Editor of the Daily Express.

"Sir,—At times when visiting a district which has been new to me I have had an idea of having been there before. Do experiences of this description occur because we have lived at some previous time on this earth in another form of life?—Gregory Goodman."

Two Views.

Spiritualists are divided into two camps on the subject. Most English spiritualists prefer to disbelieve the theory that we have lived before. French spiritualists, however, incline to the theory of reincarnation.

All sorts of explanations for recognition of places and faces have been put forward, but these memory recurrences have so far not been accounted for sufficiently to satisfy the man or woman who has had the experience.

Here is remarkable story, given to a Daily Express representative, concerning a man of impeccable honesty of thought, and accurate to a minute degree in his ordinary recollection and description.

He was coming out of a theatre and saw a man whom as far as any of his friends with him knew, he could never have seen before. Recollection, however, came to him.

He strode over to the man, and said, "I killed you once."

The other replied: "I remember. In a chariot race in Rome."

The first man agreed that the recollection was perfectly correct. This is a surprising instance of double remembrance.

Poet's Remembrance.

Mrs. Ella Wheeler Wilcox, the American poet, once said to a Daily Express representative that both she and her husband had previous existences, and that throughout they had always been lovers. Her chief remembrance was of the lost continent of Atlantis, when her husband was captain of the royal bodyguard and she was the king's daughter.

Most of these experiences relate to distinguished far-away pre-existences, generally in ancient Greece or Rome, but the simple query of the writer of the letter given above would seem to indicate that there was comparatively little lapse of time between the former life and the present. Scenes had not changed much.

Have we lived before? Long before, or only a short time before? Is life on earth wholly continuous or, practically so? These are the problems that appear to arise from experiences such as those of our readers.

playing well, driving long balls, with Stewart, if anything keeping the straighter. At the 12th Stewart was two up, but lost this advantage by the time the 15th was reached, and then became one down. He brought matters all square by capturing the 17th, and then excitement ran high when they went to the 18th tee. Stewart sent a beauty down the fairway, while Andrews, with a slightly longer ball, was in the rough to the left. Stewart took a brassie in an attempt to reach the green but duffed it, running, however, clear of the bunkers. Playing an iron in the rough Andrews failed to get hold of the ball, and all but bunkered himself. He lay clear, however, and with his third got to the far side of the green, while Stewart lay on the near side with the like. Andrews putted short, leaving himself six feet from the hole, while Stewart laid his shot within three feet of the pin. Andrews just missed the hole, and then Stewart did likewise, and a half in six was declared, making the match all square.

RUSH TO MIGRATE.

POIGNANT INCIDENT OF OLD MAN'S SONS.

Kilmarnock.—Special efforts are being made in Southern Scotland to deal with the sudden rush of applicants for assistance to settle in Australia. Officials of the local branches of the Ministry of Labour and of the Commonwealth Government's agencies are working overtime collating the growing piles of papers, each with its legend of hope.

Question—When do you want to sail for Australia?

Answer—As soon as possible. Then there is the almost unanimous confession of lack of means wherewith to contribute towards the cost of journey.

Last month the Australian Emigration Commissioner said that 491 applicants were examined at the Glasgow Young Men's Christian Institute recently—an unprecedented number for one day's assembly in a Scottish centre.

Lanark, Ayre, and Kilmarnock were visited, and again the response has been gratifying. At Lanark the number of young miners for the second and third parties who are being assisted by the Morning Post Migration Committee to settle on the land in Australia was brought up to 68. At Kilmarnock, the total had been advanced to 72. The examination of the majority of the applicants at Ayre will conclude when further recruits also will be passed at Irvine.

The Morning Post contingent of 200 men is to be despatched to the Commonwealth in five sections of 40 each. The first party sails on the Orient liner Otranto on September 18. The second party, selected at Glasgow will follow a week or two later. The third party, recruited from the "Burns District," will leave during October. The fourth section is to be selected from Sheffield, Durham, and adjacent areas.

Over the Age.

Only single miners between the ages of 18 and 25 are eligible as members of the contingent. Wider realization of the age limit would save considerable disappointment. Many people in these mining areas, animated undoubtedly by the kindest motives, have been advising men from the idle pits to apply for admission into the Morning Post group. Consequently among the applicants was a man of 58, another of 49, and a third aged 46.

At Lanark a miner with 50 years' experience of the pits beseeched the Commissioner to accept him. He had been told of the scheme, he said and he would give anything, or do anything, to get away to a new life. When the Commissioner told the old man that if he were 25 instead of 65 he would be taken, his disappointment was bitter to witness. Then the simple nobility of the old man rang true. Raising his head, he looked straight at us. "Will ye take my sons then? They're guid boys. I will gie them tae ye if ye will gie them a better chance than I've had." His sons came forward. They were accepted, subject to medical approval. When the aged father heard the news all he could murmur from his swelling throat was a husky, "God bless ye."

One of the objects of the Morning Post in promoting this scheme is to stimulate general interest in migration. Already there is a greater flow of applications for facilities to embark. Today that keener public interest is reflected in the columns of the leading Scottish papers, all of which publish descriptions of the scenes at the Glasgow Christian Institute. The final edition of the Glasgow Citizen last month contained an admirable column account, emphasizing the reason why the miners are anxious to get away. The Glasgow Bulletin published the photographs of several of the men. The evening papers devote a further space to the examination of the applicants. The authorities are satisfied that as far as Scotland is concerned the movement has been given splendid impetus.

A "cat" burglar, who scrambled up a stack pipe entered a house in Cottage-place, Brompton Road, W., by a first-floor window, got away with jewellery and plate worth several hundreds of pounds.

Irish pilgrims in London placed wreaths of laurel, with a model of the Irish harp in white chrysanthemums in the centre of each, at the foot of the Cenotaph and on the Tomb of the Unknown Warrior.

An increase of 37,617 took place in the population of Belgium, including Eupen and Malmédy, in 1925—a proportion of 8.7 per 1,000. The total population on December 31, 1925, was 7,811,976.

SATURDAY

Although there were no League matches played on Saturday quite a number of the clubs were engaged in friendlies. In some of the games very high scores were registered by individual players.

In the Interport trial, which was commenced on the Club ground between teams captained by Messrs. E. J. R. Mitchell and A. W. Hayward, there was only sufficient time for one innings and half an hour's play for the opposing side before stumps were drawn. The match will be resumed to-day.

Mitchell's team went to the wickets first and, batted for three solid hours, during which time 192 runs were scored. The first six wickets fell when the score was only 47, but Capt. Bridgland gave a lively display and with 33 from Capt. Evers and 30 from Parker the score was taken to 192.

Bowler was in form with the ball, taking seven wickets for 64 runs.

With but half an hour in which to bat, Hayward's side lost two wickets for only 16 runs when stumps were drawn.

University v. Kowloon.

The University entertained the Kowloon Cricket Club and even with a weakened team against them, the home side were unable to force a victory.

Bath, S. V. Gittins and Samy passed the 70 mark for the University before they were dismissed and although there were no other big scores the innings was declared closed at 200 for the loss of nine wickets.

Kowloon made a creditable attempt to overtake the huge score but could only reach 134 before stumps were drawn. Brace and Duncan were the top scorers for the side the former making 43 and the latter 28.

Civil Service v. Craigengower.

The Civil Service met their neighbours at home and won by 16 runs. Craigengower batted first and scored 97. The home team passed that total with two wickets in hand and eventually made 113 runs when the last wicket fell. Kelley (23) for Craigengower and Baker (27) for Civil Service were the main scorers.

Kowloon v. Civil Service.

At Kowloon, the Civil Service second string were successful over the home team by 33 runs. Harper, Nihil and Carr all made over 20 runs, the whole team making 109 runs. They then dismissed their opponents for 76.

Recreio v. University.

The Club de Recreio defeated the University at King's Park by 62 runs. Noronha making 23 and Almada 20 out of a total of 95. Sousa took six wickets for 11 runs.

Police v. R. E.

Declaring at 163 for the loss of five wickets, the R. E. and R. C.'s had no difficulty in dismissing the Police on the latter's ground for 85 runs. Higgs made 64 and Holliday 59 for the soldiers, while Dr. Craig made 36 for the Police. Craigengower v. H. K. Electric.

A very close match, was played between the Craigengower, seconds and the Hongkong Electric, the winning hit being made by the last pair. The Valley team scored 88 and their opponents 100.

H.K.C.C. 2nd XI.

Against Kowloon C.C. at 11 a.m. to-day, the Hongkong C.C. 2nd XI (away) will be represented by: M. M. Watson (captain), H. J. Armstrong, A. J. Hazeland, R. W. Lee, J. Nicholas, D. E. G. Nicholson, D. B. Pent, L. P. Ralph, D. Reid, H. R. Remington and J. S. Scott.

Match Cancelled.

The Indian R.C. versus Volunteers cricket match has been cancelled, due to the unplayable condition of the ground at Spokenpool.

V. R. C. SPORTS.SATURDAY'S GRAND NIGHT FETE.

The inclement weather on Saturday was mainly responsible for the poor attendance at the V.R.C. annual aquatic sports which were brought to a close with a grand night fete in the evening.

At the conclusion of the sports Rear Admiral A.J.B. Stirling informed that the Harbour races were being held on October 26, 27 and 28, while it was hoped that another night fete would be arranged for the 23rd.

He referred to the Y.M.C.A. entering a team this year for the first time since they went into occupation of their new building in Kowloon.

The backstroke race was won by Noronha for the second year in succession and the winner became the holder of the Cup.

In conclusion, Rear Admiral Stirling thanked the officials for the promotion of the successful evening, especially in spite of the adverse weather conditions. He also thanked competitors who had provided such excellent sport.

After Mrs. Stirling had presented the prizes, Mr. W. Logan said that it was customary to present her with a bouquet, but it was not ready and would be sent to her. He hoped that it would be a memento of her last occasion in Hongkong.

FOR THE POOR.ST. STEPHEN'S BAZAAR.

More service and good will, were, according to Mr. W. W. Hornell, speaking at the opening of the bazaar at St. Stephen's Girls' College on Saturday, the only way in which the Colony could rid itself of the feeling which existed between the Chinese and the non-Chinese. That feeling however did not prevail in the College, nor, he hoped, in the University.

Mr. W. W. Hornell, C.I.E., presided over the opening ceremony, supported by the following members of the School Council: the Right Rev. Bishop C. R. Duppuy and Mrs. Duppuy, Mrs. W. T. Southern, Mrs. H. T. Creasy, the Rev. H. Copley Moyle Mrs. Foster, the Rev. Lai Kau-yan, Mrs. W. K. Cheung, Miss Middleton Smith (Principal), Miss Vincent and Miss Atkins.

Before asking Mrs. Southern to declare the bazaar open, Miss Middleton Smith called upon Mrs. Creasy to present the prizes won by the students and members of the staff in connection with the sale of work.

Among the competition prizes awarded were those for the best dressed doll (Miss Diana Ho); best made bag, Miss Tsang Ah-yuen; and the best made fan, Miss Phyllis Gillingham.

Mr. Hornell introduced Mrs. Southern and said that she needed no introduction to students, but although she was a member of the school body, she had been unable to be there before on account of the climate not being very good in Hongkong.

Mr. Hornell said that he desired to impress upon everyone the fact that the bazaar was not run for the benefit of St. Stephen's College, but it was a sale for the sole benefit of the poor institutions.

There was a certain amount of feeling, continued the speaker, between the Chinese and the non-Chinese. There was however, the absence of this feeling in the School and he hoped it was the same in the University. This feeling had to be recognised and it was impossible to ignore it. The only way to get rid of it and to get back to a more serene plane, was by more service and more good will.

In conclusion Mr. Hornell recommended the bazaar to all those present and to those who would be attending in the afternoon.

Mrs. Southern expressed her delight at being present at the bazaar and said that the work in itself was a great tribute to those who had contributed to it. It was a very wise man who had said, "What was worth having was worth sharing" commented Mrs. Southern.

Mrs. Southern spoke of the pleasure it gave her to have had to perform her first function in Hongkong in a girls' school, as she had always had a great affection for school girls. They could be very attractive and responsible individuals if they were dealt with in the right way.

In declaring the bazaar open, Mrs. Southern hoped that it would be a great success.

GOLF AT SHANGHAI.THE ALL CHINA AMATEUR CHAMPIONSHIP.

Shanghai, Oct. 9.

In the all-China Amateur Golf Championship (medal play) at the end of the first day, Budd (Shanghai) the holder, led by four strokes, H. Kawasaki being second, R. Akaboshi third, and Blnko (Shanghai) fourth.

The wind was a detrimental factor to good scoring throughout the day but there was a slight improvement in the afternoon.

The second 36 holes will be played to-morrow.

Shanghai, Oct. 10.

Budd retained the title of the All-China golf champion, Blnko being second, and Kawasaki and Malcolm being for third place.

The wind was again detrimental to good play, but died down in the afternoon. Nevertheless the driving was affected.

A slight drizzle made the course slower, affecting the putts.

Budd, who was putting well throughout the day, had had luck on several occasions. Blnko failed on the green, missing several short putts. Kawasaki was playing beautiful golf, but not accurately enough to be first-class. Malcolm played a sound game throughout.

RECREIO'S WIN OVER KOWLOON.

[By "Wanderer."]

Writing recently of the Club de Recreio's league prospects during the current season, I expressed the opinion that the Portuguese club was "destined to turn out a workmanlike side likely to disturb some championship candidates." How truthful were those words, was demonstrated on Saturday when in the very first match of the season, they administered a severe shock to Kowloon, the champions, by defeating them on their own ground.

Judging by their form against the "Tigers" on Saturday the Tamar eleven, if circumstances allow the team to hang together, is one of the strongest in the league. The game on Saturday was fought at a rare pace, and a draw resulted.

The Chinese teams generally had a bad day, the only winning team being the South China Boy Scouts in Division II "B."

The results of all matches played in the Hongkong Football League on Saturday are appended:

Division I.
Kowloon	1 Club de Recreio
Tamar	2 Chinese Ath.
Surreys	1 South China

Div. II. "A."
St. Joseph's	4 University
Surreys	15 China "B"
Kowloon	2 Recreio
Club Res.	2 China "A"

Div. II. "B."
St. Joseph's	3 H. K. & S. B.
Boy Scouts	3 China "B"
Moslems	3 China "A"

RECREIO FORTUNATE.

When Kowloon, playing with the wind, opened the scoring five minutes after the start of their game with the Club de Recreio, it appeared all Lombard Street to a China orange on a Kowloon victory. Territorially they had 70 per cent. of the subsequent play, but the Recreio snatched a victory by taking full advantage of their opportunities.

Kowloon's inside forwards should have netted at least four times in the first half, but they have yet to learn what to do with a ball handed to them from the touch-line, and glorious opportunities were allowed to go begging.

Caville scored the first goal of the match with a swerving left-foot shot which caught the goalkeeper unprepared, and with Turner, Sims and McKelvie in splendid form, the Recreio's nippy forward line was seen rarely in action, except from sudden and dangerous break-aways.

Near the interval, Gosano sent in a hot one which Durand failed to hold, and dashing in, Silva equalised.

In the second half, with the wind now in their favour, the Recreio showed up more prominently and Durand was applauded for excellent saves. The goalkeeper played throughout with an injured left arm but showed to advantage in spite of this.

Eventually, the Recreio gained the lead from a corner, the ball being beautifully placed by D. P. Xavier, Gosano forcing the ball through a crowd of players.

In the last fifteen minutes Kowloon, chiefly through the wonderful work of the half-backs, overwhelmed the Recreio but did everything but score. M. M. Silva made a wonderful save from a shot by Spary which looked a goal all the way, and he was further tested by Sims and Caville.

Ogley and Xavier put up a magnificent defence but the ball was rarely cleared beyond the half-way line, Kowloon always returning to the attack. In the last few minutes Pile received a few yards out and shot by with the goal at his mercy. The game ended with a remarkable individual effort by da Silva, who carried the ball clear through from the half-way line, but failed to score.

Kowloon were defeated solely because the inside forwards played a close game and did not adopt new methods on meeting with no success against the robust Recreio defence. The half-back line has rarely played better, Sims giving his finest exhibition since his arrival in the Colony.

For the Recreio, Silva played a remarkably fine game in goal, he was well covered by Ogley and Xavier, and A.A. Remedios gave Caville little rope. The forwards were fast and accurate in their passing, and always looked more dangerous than those of Kowloon.

THE IMPROVED TAMAR.

Although at no time in the course of their game with the Chinese Athletic, did the Tamar rain the lead, with any luck at all they would have won their first match of the season. Pan, in the Chinese goal, had a lively afternoon, and required all his skill and resource to prevent the nippy Tamar line from adding to their score.

The first goal fell to the Chinese some fifteen minutes after the start, following long sustained pressure on their goal. A long kick sent the Chinese away, and after Wong had missed a "sitter," the ball was returned into the goalmouth by Chau Kwong-ai, and Wong headed through.

Worthington, who played a sterling game throughout, equalised with a low drive shortly afterwards, but the "Tigers" regained the lead when Suen Kam-shun hooked the ball through from close range.

The Tamar were the better side in the second half, and they made fine efforts to score. Only once were they rewarded, and then Stewart gave no chance after the goalkeeper had failed to hold a hot one from Worthington.

The high wind was not conducive to good ball control, but the Tamar adapted themselves to the conditions, and but for some splendid goalkeeping by Pan, supported by two door backs, the dashing attack of the naval team would probably have met with a deserved success.

A CLOSE THING.

The Surreys should have scored more than one goal against South China and yet in a sense they were lucky to win. The goal which decided the issue was scored in the first half by Humberston, who headed goalwards from about thirty yards, and had the good fortune to see Lau Hing-cheung miss the ball entirely when he endeavoured to punch out.

It was Lau's only mistake of the match, but it cost his side a point. At full strength, the Surreys kept the South China defence on tenterhooks throughout the whole of the first half, and only determined defence prevented the soldiers from running up a big score.

With the wind in their favour in the second half, the South China forwards retaliated in earnest and for fifteen minutes it appeared that the Douglas must capitulate. Fine play by McGreavey, Mitchell, and Bristow eventually wore the Chinese down and towards the end, the Surreys were again in the ascendency.

South China on Saturday's play are a much better team than their previous form would indicate. The backs are sound, and the halves energetic, while the forwards are dangerous when once on the move.

THE JUNIOR GAMES.

After holding a lead, to which they should have added, until within a few minutes of the end, the Chinese Athletic "A" team were defeated by the Club Reserves by two goals to one. Liu Kau scored for the Chinese fifteen minutes after the start, and they kept up the pressure for the greater part of the opening half. After the interval the Club Reserves were more in the picture, but they delayed their equaliser until close to time, when a penalty was awarded, and Johnstone, the victim, scored from the kick. The Club went down again from the line-up and secured the winning goal through King.

Had the forwards taken their opportunities Kowloon Reserves would have defeated the Recreio Reserves, but a draw resulted, four goals being shared. Knight missed in the first three minutes and Pereira made no mistake with a first-time shot. Kowloon Reserves had the measure of their opponents and kept up a strong pressure for the greater part of the game. Near the end Millard scored from range to equalise, and Vickers added a few minutes later to give Kowloon the lead for the first time. The game appeared safe for Kowloon but the Recreio broke through and Knight again mis-kicked. Pereira was presented with another easy opportunity, of which he took full advantage.

It took the Surreys Reserves twenty minutes to secure the first goal against Chinese Athletic "B," but subsequently the latter team was overwhelmed, and the soldiers rattled up fourteen further goals without reply.

St. Joseph's were a safe tip for their match with the University. They won comfortably by four clear goals, Omar, Ward (2) and McGrann netting.

The "B" section produced some keen games, South China Boy Scouts, who defeated Chinese Athletic "B" by three goals to nil, gaining the most convincing victory.

THE LATEST APPOINTMENTS.

Commander C. S. Sandford, O.B.E., whom the Admiralty have selected to become commander of the Despatch, in place of the late Commander F. C. Darley, recently passed out of the staff course at Greenwich. Promoted in 1923, he was formerly in the Naval Equipment Department, Admiralty. He is best known as the torpedo Lieutenant of the battle-cruiser Invincible at Jutland, when he was one of the only six survivors of that ship's crew of about a thousand.
Lieutenant I. H. Bockett-Pugh, who has also been appointed to the Despatch, entered the Navy as a special entry cadet in 1919 from Christ's Hospital and the Imperial Service College, Windsor. He attained his present rank in April, 1923, and from August of that year until April last he served in the destroyer Venetia.

Three other Lieutenants have been appointed to the flagship Hawkins for disposal, and will presumably be available either to replace the officers on the casualty list or to fill vacancies caused by the transfer of officers already in China. Lieutenant W. G. Brittain has been employed in field training duties at Devonport; Lieutenant James Sanders was formerly in the sloop Godetia; and Lieutenant B. G. Scudfield, an interpreter in French and winner of the Ryder memorial for that subject, in the destroyer Walpole

CHINESE CHRISTIANS.

REV. J. KIRK MACONACHIE'S REFERENCE.

Collections were taken at Union Church yesterday for the needs of the Sunday Schools at Kennedy Road and Quarry Bay.

Children from the former school were present at the earlier portion of the morning service. In a short address to them the minister spoke of the opening of the handsome new Church in Bonham Road, at which he had attended on the previous day. Over a thousand Chinese Christians, he said, were present, most of them belonging to the Church but some having come from country places who waited outside for many hours before the opening of the doors. The speaker said he could have wished all the Europeans in Hongkong could have been there. They would not then, after going home to England, speak with so little knowledge as to the strength and reality of Chinese Christianity. He hoped the children, many of whom would be returning in a fortnight with the troops, would be able to tell something about what is being done to let the children of China hear about the "Good Shepherd," who carries the lambs in His arms.

NO COAL.

EFFECTS OF BRITISH DISPUTE.

London, Oct. 9.
 How the coal shortage in consequence of the British strike is hampering Continental manufacturers is illustrated by Reuter's Gothenburg correspondent recording the imminence of a fuel famine. Dealers hitherto have postponed their purchases, hoping for an early end of the British dispute, and now it is impossible to secure coal for November delivery and prices for later delivery are bounding daily.

A contract for five thousand tons was lodged in America at fifty-four shillings a ton. Difficulties are accentuated by the fact that freight rates were recently doubled.—Reuter.

Safetymen Union's Action.

London, Oct. 9.
 "I can say plainly that the Miners Federation is unable in any part of Britain to withdraw real safety men," declared Mr. Shirkie, Secretary of the National Federation of Colliery Enginemen, Boltermen and Mechanics in an interview with Reuter.

He added: "We don't take their resolution seriously" because practically all of the safety-men were controlled by his Federation which was not going to withdraw them.

The Executive Council of the National Federation of Colliery Enginemen, Boltermen and Mechanics, which controls practically all the safety-men, has decided not to withdraw the safety-men from the coal mines.—Reuter.

CHINA'S FUTURE.

FAILURE OF THE REVOLUTION.

London, Oct. 10.
 Speaking at a dinner of the Central Union of Chinese students in Great Britain, in London yesterday evening, given in celebration of the fifteenth anniversary of the foundation of the Chinese Republic, Doctor Hu Shien declared that the Chinese revolution had failed because it had never been a real revolution, only a superficial change in the form of Government.

"We have been too conceited to understand the modern world and its new civilisation, and we have never earnestly prepared our young men for the great task. We have been fifty years behind Japan in coming to a willingness to accept modern civilisation."

Chinese were sent abroad merely to acquire technical education, and almost none studied philosophy. The revolution found China with no leaders, and had only given rise to many unscrupulous opportunists. He hoped the students would become leaders in a new revolution to make China a great, modern nation.—Reuter.

DELVILLE WOOD.

UNVEILING OF SOUTH AFRICAN MEMORIAL.

Rugby, Oct. 9.
 The South African National Memorial at Delville Wood, in the Somme area, will be unveiled tomorrow by Mrs. Louis Botha.

General Hertzog, Prime Minister of the Union, and many eminent South Africans will be present, together with Marshal Joffre, representing the French, and Field-Marshal Lord Haig, representing the British armies.

Delville Wood is a piece of France sacred to South Africa and the design of the Memorial unites it with the great Imperial war cemetery, where lie all the recovered bodies of those who fell in the Delville Wood battles. The Memorial, however, is dedicated to all South Africans who gave their lives in the war, as is shown by the inscription on it, which is given both in English and Dutch, and reads, "To the immortal dead from South Africa, who at the call of duty made great sacrifice on the battlefields of Africa, Asia and Europe and on the sea, this Memorial is dedicated in proud and grateful recognition by their countrymen."

Many of those attending the ceremony will be taken there and back tomorrow in a special fleet of Imperial Airways machines.—British Wireless.

FRENCH COIN PURCHASE.

SILVER SLUMP CAUSES ALTERATION.

Paris, Oct. 10.
 The newspapers state that owing to the slump in silver, the Bank of France, which recently began buying gold and silver from the public at a fixed price, has decided to suspend, from Oct. 11 until further notice, the purchase of silver, while gold will be bought on a basis of 19 decimales 55 francs per gramme of fine gold, instead of 19 decimales 75 as hitherto.—Reuter.

RUSSIAN SPLIT.

VIOLATION OF PARTY DISCIPLINE.

Moscow, October 9.
 "In view of the violation of party discipline by the most prominent members of the Opposition," the Political Bureau of the Communist party has resolved to submit to the next plenary meeting of the committee of the Central Controlling Commission the question of imposing due party penalties on Trotsky, Zinovieff and Piatakov.—Reuter.

THE EAST SURREYS.

CEREMONY OF TROOPING THE COLOUR.

The ceremony of Trooping the Colour will be carried out by the 1st Bn. The East Surrey Regiment on Murray Barracks Parade Ground at 4.30 p.m. on Thursday next, 14th instant.

It is essential that all ticket holders are in their allotted places by 4.20 p.m., otherwise it will not be possible to admit them to the ground.

Non-ticket holders, including Chinese, are invited to witness the ceremony from Garden Road.

Garden Road will be closed to motor traffic from 4 p.m. to 6.30 p.m.
 No photographers except the two authorized cinema operators will be allowed on the ground.

After the ceremony the troops march by the road around the Hongkong Cricket Club ground on their return to Barracks.

In the event of heavy rain at 4.30 p.m. on the 14th inst. the ceremony will take place at the same time on Friday, 15th instant.

GERMAN QUARREL.

GENERAL HEYE SUCCEEDS VON SEEKT.

Berlin, Oct. 9.
 General Heye, Commander of the Koenigsberg Division of the Reichswehr, has been appointed to succeed General Von Seeckt.—Reuter.

[General Heye's appointment is consequent upon the resignation of General Von Seeckt as Chief of the Reichswehr, which was attributed to the fact that he permitted Prince Wilhelm, the Crown Prince's eldest son, to attend last month's manoeuvres at Wurtemberg, without consulting Von Gessler, Minister for Defence, who subsequently refused to defend Von Seeckt's action against Press attacks.]

AN EPIC FILM.

"ZEEBRUGGE" SHOWN IN HONGKONG.

The film reconstruction of the battle of Zeebrugge, which was shown privately in Hongkong on Saturday, tells the story of that gallant naval attack far more vividly than any written description. It gives a correct historical idea of the great battle and is guaranteed by the fact that both the English and Belgian Governments lent their assistance in its production.

It was examined by the Admiralty before being passed and approved and Capt. Carpenter, who was in command of the Vindicator during the operations, has also expressed his appreciation of the film's accuracy and vividness.

The first part of the film deals with the reasons for the hazardous enterprise and there are some excellent, rather terrifying, scenes of the sinking of British merchantmen by submarines. Most of these are actual German films. They were taken for war propaganda purposes and were captured in a German submarine when they were on their way to America.

From Start to Finish.

The reconstruction of the battle at the Mole is most ingenious. By means of a cleverly contrived model of Zeebrugge, the movements of each ship are carefully portrayed. We see the concentration at the mouth of the Thames, the queerly assorted fleet putting out to sea and every detail of the struggle on and around the Mole.

The sinking of the block ships is shown and the terrific bombardment of all vessels taking part has been achieved in a thoroughly effective manner. There are some excellent scenes of the blowing up of the Mole by submarine C3 and of individual deeds of daring by officers and men which gained their performers the Victoria Cross. Altogether it is a splendid film of one of the most cleverly conceived and daring naval moves of modern times.

It will be shown at the Nelson Day celebration concert to be held in the Queen's Theatre on October 21, at 9.30 p.m.

THE RACES.

GOOD SPORT ON SATURDAY.

For the fourth extra Race Meeting at Happy Valley on Saturday, the going was rather heavy, but despite this fact, some excellent sport was witnessed. The pari-mutuel returned good dividends. The only circumstance marring the afternoon's sport was a mishap to Mr. G. W. Sewell, who was thrown from Demon Boy in the Beekhampton Handicap and had to be carried from the course. He was rather badly bruised, but otherwise was not injured.

There was quite a good attendance of spectators, and the band of the East Surreys rendered an excellent selection of music.

A NEW TUSSAUD'S.

GREATER EXHIBITION TO REPLACE THE OLD.

Madame Tussaud's is to rise from its ashes. The fire-blackened shell which now stands as a memorial to the world-famous exhibition is to come down, and work is to be begun at once on the new structure, which will contain all the unique features of the old, including the Chamber of Horrors, and many additions.

A new company has been formed, which will be known as Madame Tussaud's (1926), Ltd., and nearly £200,000 will be spent in erecting the new building. In the disastrous fire last year a large proportion of the exhibits was destroyed, but the Chamber of Horrors, though flooded with water, was only slightly damaged, and most of its sinister occupants were rescued. In other parts of the building most of the historic figures were destroyed, and these will be replaced.

A feature of the new structure will be a giant cinema, capable of holding nearly 2,000 persons. There is also to be a large restaurant, and it is the intention of the directors to make the new Tussaud's a leading centre of entertainment in London.

The chairman of the new company is Mr. N. W. Wild, and the other directors are Major Foyser, who was chairman of the old firm, Mr. R. A. Field, Mr. Herbert Clayton, and Mr. John Tussaud, a great grandson of the original Madame Tussaud, who opened the first building in 1902. The Morning Post understands that Mr. Herbert Clayton will be responsible for the theatrical and cinema displays, and the exhibition of the historical figures will be under the supervision of Mr. John Tussaud. While preserving all the old popular features, the exhibition will be modernized. The rebuilding is expected to take at least a year.

It is announced in the People (Brussels) that an official wireless service will be opened shortly between Belgium and the Congo.

A wireless message from Labrador states that the Macmillan Arctic expedition has arrived off the coast and reports "all well."

The Soviet authorities at Kiev have decided to use one of the most famous Russian monasteries, the Kievopetchersky Lavra, for workers' dwellings and a museum.

CHILD ADOPTION.

NO GROUND FOR MARKED CHANGE IN BRITISH LAW.

The third and final report of the Child Adoption Committee, published as a White Paper, is divided into two parts, dealing respectively with the protection of child life and the inspection of voluntary homes.

With regard to the protection of child life, the Committee states: "As to the substance of the law, there is little doubt that Part I of the Act was intended originally to be in the nature of a police measure directed to the abolition of what is commonly called 'baby farming.' We are satisfied that this legislation has proved an efficient instrument for combating the mischief against which it was directed, and as the mischief has diminished the value of the legislation, viewed as a welfare measure, has come more and more into prominence." They do not think that any ground has been shown for a marked change in the substance of the law, which "affords adequate safeguards against the evils to which it is directed, and reasonable facilities for working a welfare system dependent for its success upon the tact and sympathy of the visitors rather than upon statutory powers, prohibitions, and penalties."

With regard to the inspection of voluntary homes, the Committee say that the provisions relating to the visitations of homes are not adequate, and they are satisfied that the Secretary of State is the proper authority to whom information should be furnished, and in whom the power of inspecting should be vested. There is no reason, however, why the officers of local authorities should not, where desirable, be employed to carry out inspections on his behalf. The Committee think that there should be some power to obtain in a proper case an order for the removal of children or young persons from a home in which their safety or welfare is being endangered, and recommend that every person responsible for any home should be required to furnish to the Secretary of State such particulars as may be prescribed, and that failure to comply should be made a punishable offence.

The funeral took place at Totland, Isle of Wight, of Mr. Charles St. John, aged 86, the last among the white men who accompanied Dr. Livingstone, the missionary and explorer, into Central Africa.

In a new type of twin-engined Albatross biplane, just placed in service on the German airlines, four of the eight armchair seats in the cabin can be converted into two sleeping berths.
